Headline:
Cloudy start, but brightening up.

Today:
A cloudy start with some patchy light rain and drizzle, this turning more persistent through Argyll in the afternoon. Otherwise, becoming dry with some bright spells, a little sunshine possible at times. The brisk westerly winds gradually easing down. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Mainly dry and rather cloudy this evening, a little patchy drizzle still possible through Argyll. However, the light rain and drizzle becoming more widespread overnight with mist and hill fog. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Saturday:
Any patchy light rain and drizzle soon dying out to leave a mainly dry day with some bright or sunny spells developing. Breezy and feeling warm in any sunshine. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Dry and bright for much of Sunday. Breezy, strong southerly winds around the coast. Rain pushing east during the evening, clearing east overnight. Then bright with scattered showers.
